TEQUILA FROM JALISCO

Products

PULQUE, also known as AGAVE WINE a once considered sacred drink by the Aztecs, is an alcoholic beverage made from the fermented juice of the maguey, and is a traditional native beverage of Mesoamerica.

The origin of pulque is unknown, but because it has a major position in religion, many folk tales explain its origins. Prior to the Spanish conquest, the Aztecs consumed it at religious ceremonies. Aztecs were very strict about pulque's use, and only priests and high dignitaries were allowed to drink pulque. People who disregarded this law paid a heavy penalty, even death, except on the last five days of the calendar year, known as the 'Days of the Dead.'
